

PRESS RELEASE

Kymanox Announces 6th Annual James J. Davis Memorial Scholarship for Students Studying Abroad

22 October 2010 – For Immediate Release

Gurnee, IL Kymanox, LLC is pleased to announce its sixth offering of the James J. Davis Memorial Scholarship for Students Studying Abroad. Over the past five years, the scholarship has attracted applications from a large and diverse pool of highly qualified students planning to study abroad. It has continually received growing interest each year.

The 2011/2012 scholarship is open to all US undergraduate students studying abroad through accredited US colleges or universities. The selected recipient will receive $1000.00 (US) for 2011/2012 educational-related expenses. More details and the scholarship application can be found on-line at:

www.kymanox.com/scholarship.

“Kymanox is happy to invest in such promising students and proud to honor the memory of James J. Davis in this way,” says Kymanox President, Stephen M. Perry, PMP.

Founded in 2004, Kymanox is focused on facilitating effective and efficient knowledge transfer. The name Kymanox was derived from Greek and means Ideal Knowledge Transfer™. The company specializes in technical project management and engineering services within the Life Sciences industry. Learn more by visiting www.kymanox.com.

Media Contact:
Scholarship Administrator
Kymanox, LLC
+1-919-246-4896
E-Mail: scholarship@kymanox.com